

Care built around the person, not a checklist.

A Colorado Program Approved Service Agency for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities

Choosing a support provider is personal — you're trusting someone with the person you love. Compassionate Living Solutions treats every client like family and every family like a partner, with health, safety, and dignity guiding every interaction.

OUR APPROACH

Built around the individual

We take the time to learn what matters to each person we support — their preferences, their pace, and their cues for fatigue or the need for a break — before we ever set a routine. Services are scheduled around when a client is most engaged, paired with staff suited to their preferences, and built around real activities in the community rather than a fixed template. Transportation is included wherever it's needed, so mobility is never a barrier to participation.

WHY FAMILIES CHOOSE US

Direct, hands-on, accountable

As a newly approved agency, we bring a level of attention larger providers often can't. Onboarding and scheduling stay close to leadership, so families and case managers get a direct line to decision-making instead of being routed through layers of staff. Our operational background means intake, documentation, and communication are handled promptly and reliably from day one.

What sets our support apart

01

Consistent staffing

Small client rosters mean the same one or two staff members over time, not a rotating cast — building the trust that responsive care depends on.

02

Responsive, not scripted

Staff are trained to recognize engagement and fatigue cues early, offering encouragement and breaks before a client has to ask.

03

Ready to move quickly

We can typically schedule a meet-and-greet within days of approval, with flexible availability built around each client's routine.

"You'll always know who to call, and you'll always get an honest answer. We would be honored to be part of your family's journey."
